

FACE TO FACE: OCEAN PORTRAITS Huw Lewis-Jones

Foreword: Sir Robin Knox-Johnston

Afterword: Deborah Cramer

October 2010 / £30 / Hb

240 photographs / 288 pages / 267 x 217 mm

ISBN: 978-1844861248

In Association with Anova Conway

To view a 'flipbook' preview, please visit www.polarworld.co.uk/ocean_portraits.htm

A stunning visual exploration of people who have been inspired by the oceans, who voyaged to the limits of possibility, who endured unfathomable hardships on the high seas, and who have broadened the horizons of our understanding.

This book showcases rare images never before published from some of the world's finest maritime collections, alongside modern images by leading photographers such as Rick Tomlinson, David Doubilet and lifeboatman Nigel Millard.

From weathered fisher-folk and salty sea-dogs to pioneering oceanographers and navigators, meet a crew of characters who have been drawn to the sea, to live, to work, to seek adventure; people who have been inspired by the sea to create, to dare and to dream. See heroes of maritime and seafaring history alongside men and women of many nations working in the modern marine environment.

Our 100 portraits include Sylvia Earle, Ellen MacArthur, Don Walsh, Peter Blake, Jacques-Yves Cousteau, Samuel Plimsoll, Skip Novak and more.

Face to Face: Ocean Portraits also features an essay on pioneering oceanographic photography, and a discussion about the challenges and rewards of photography at sea.

For more information contact: Kari Herbert at Polarworld: hello@polarworld.co.uk or Komal Patel at Anova: kpatel@anovabooks.com, tel: 0207 605 1466.

Also, visit our 'polarworld' page on Facebook to see a gallery of spreads from this book.

Release date, UK and French editions: 4 October 2010
www.polarworld.co.uk